On the Floating Playground the little ones who were not actually ill enjoyed the baby scups, hobby-horses, rockers and hammock cribs, and everybody is sure of a square meal at Caterer T. A. Judson's well-set table, with ice-cream and cakes in the afternoon and plenty of milk all day long.
The successful season of "Evening World" Outings to the sick bables of the poor on the Floating Playground began Saturday, June 15, and will wind up next week, when there will be outings on Tuesday, and Saturday to beauings on ruesaly and Saturday to deau-tiful Oriental Beach on Long Island Bound. These will bring the total num-ber of outings to thirty-one and they will have afforded a day of health-giv-ing and pleasure to 35,000 mothers and hables.

on the Floating Playground:

To the Editor:

Allow me to congratulate you on the beautiful excursion which "The Evening World" gave to the Hariem bables. I've heard so much about it that I never thought it was as grand as it is. It surprised me to see how well everything was arranged and well the good ladies and gentlemen waited on the mothers and children. If a person was to pay ever so much he could not have it any grander. If the people who have donated to the fund could have seen how well the children's wants were looked out for and how happy and contented they looked, they would have cried for Joy. Please accept my thanks, also to the ladies and gentlemen and the doctor who tendered to the wants of the mothers and children. Yours truly,

MRS. ROSIE C.,
